

Where We Stand Class Matters

Speech of Joseph McCarthy, Wheeling, West Virginia, February 9, 1950. Ladies and gentlemen, tonight as we celebrate the one hundred forty-first birthday of one of the greatest men in American history, I would like to be able to talk about what a glorious day today is in the history of the world.

"Enemies from Within": Senator Joseph R. McCarthy's ...

So, the unspoken question is a clear one: Is there really anything left anywhere? Or do we just slough off one era after another in less and less time than ever before in history?

National Catholic Reporter - From Where I Stand

Yet, even as we acknowledge the historic significance of Brown, we must also acknowledge its decreasing impact on public education. Any objective appraisal of where we stand as a nation today with respect to progress in racial integration in schools reveals that Brown—and the Court's call for it to be implemented with "all deliberate speed

Why School Integration Matters - Educational Leadership

Teacher Quality Matters More . While it's hard to find experts willing to take a stand against lower class sizes, there are some who question the effectiveness of the statewide programs currently in place.
